Calling all Primary Schools
and Pupils aged 10-11!
We want YOU!

Please help raise awareness of the dangers of carbon monoxide (CO) poisoning!

CO-Gas Safety is an independent registered charity and is running a Schools Poster Competition for a third year to highlight the dangers of CO and other dangers from using fuel that burns.

Competition closes 31st July 2010

All the details are on the website www.co-gassafety.co.uk/competition.html

There are two regions, North England and South England so there will be 2 winners plus 1 overall UK winner. Prizes are at least £200 for each winning pupil and at least £300 for each winning school!

You could ask your audience to spot the CO dangers in this picture

The charity is hoping for some brilliant entries to get the message across simply
